

“I’m thankful to the AFT for introducing me to First Book. It’s been a great resource for me and my students.”

Erin Benham,
AFT member, Lincoln Middle School

New books for kids in need!

Help kids in your community succeed in school and in life by giving them books! And not just any books—we’re talking about brand-new, popular, high-quality books at affordable prices that support the Common Core, the STEM fields, and social and emotional issues.

First Book is a nonprofit that exists to help educators like you. Through our partnership with AFT members, we’ve provided nearly 2 million new books to kids in need, and we’d like to help you as well.

Open this booklet to find some of our favorite titles, chosen from the thousands on our site.

All educators, school staff, and volunteers in Title I schools are eligible to join. Programs that serve at least 70% children and families in poverty, the military, ELLs and special education families are also eligible!

About First Book

The AFT and First Book are working together to help kids in our community succeed. Our partnership with First Book is just one of the many ways AFT is reclaiming the promise.

First Book is a national nonprofit that provides access to brand-new books and educational resources for kids in need. We work with teachers, paraprofessionals and other school-related personnel, higher education faculty and professional staff, nurses and healthcare workers, retirees, and early childhood educators like you to get books into the hands of kids in need, with the shared goal of increasing literacy and promoting a lifelong love of reading.

Thousands of AFT members use First Book’s low-cost resources to bring the gift of reading to and instill a love of learning.

Join our partnership. Communities that read are communities that succeed!
